Who Am I?

Firewind

Who am I, where have I come from In this time, have I been before Who is she, in this goddess form Love divine, soul and flesh restored

In the infinite expanse of time There are spirits we can't deny

Fire and ice, hand in hand creating life Man and wife, the ancients have foretold Still a spark, is struck by whose device No one knows, how love immortal grows

Oh! I have seen, so many things, not through my eyes What have I done, to be so born, of ancient lore Oh! She has been everything, my soul desired Love conquers all, our spirits are forever more
