

All Loved Up

Fish

I come to life on a monitor screen, a click away I can post status updates, share my profile,

Check out my photos they're not really me, they're of some actor
I have to be someone different just so you'll like me, because I'm not special, but I know that I could be

I'm at auditions, the end of the queue, don't need to tell me I know what to do to impress them, I'll wear my best smile

Humiliation, I don't really care, I'll be outrageous,
I'll be the king of the freak show,
To get the exposure; I'll do whatever it takes to sign the contract,
I don't really care
I'm all loved up

All loved up, I'm all loved up

Don't need no money I got credit cards, a deck of plastic I ride to the max, till meltdown, then I got parents

Because they owe me they can never refuse,
I don't feel guilty they shouldn't really have had me, it's all their fault, I got nothing, I really do deserve more

In this world of wall to wall celebrities
I get the feeling I already know,

And I'll be rubbing shoulders with the in crowd because that's where I belong
With the beautiful people,
the dazzling beautiful people, check out the beautiful people, loved up beautiful people

All I need is a lottery win, my lucky numbers sure to come in, then I'm sorted, I get no more worries.

I believe in my own destiny,
I just know one day I'm going to be famous,
I deserve it, because I'm so special, I love me, I'm so special,
I love me

In my world of wall to wall celebrities I get the feeling I already know,
One day I'm sure they're going to be my real friends

I'll be rubbing shoulders with the in crowd

because that's where I belong
With the beautiful people,
the dazzling beautiful people,
well heeled people, well dressed people

All loved up, all loved up, we're all loved up

Beautiful people
All fucked up
