

Had To

Fisher

Can you tell me
Why have I come?
Why am I in Chicago?
I just wanted to kiss the bride,
I didn't think I would be seeing you

Chorus:
And I had to laugh
You were shaking my hand as if we'd never met and I had to cry
'Cause the tears were too wet
and my eyes were too full knowing I was forgettable

Did it ever hit you to call - no phones in your Chicago?
There's nothing that I need to convey, just maybe a small "hello" from LA

And I had to laugh
You were searching your head for the right thing to say and I
had to cry
'Cause the tears were too wet
and my eyes were too full
knowing I was forgettable

I can recall every face that I have ever kissed How did I fall on your "Miss Miscellaneous" list?

And I had to cry
There was no other way to express all my joy, and I had to laugh
When I thought of my fate
it was all I could do Knowing I had escaped from you
