

Locked (In My Head)

Fit for a King

The writing's on the wall, replaying every story
Reality got lost in the fear waiting for me

If all I know is the worst in me
If I close my eyes, will it set me free?

Locked in my head again
Locked in my head again
A war against myself
It's me and no one else
Nobody understands
I'm locked in my head again

Another night, another breath, hopeless prayers
Pulling in, dwelling in, all my fears

If all I know is the worst in me
If I close my eyes, will it set me free?

Locked in my head again
Locked in my head again
A war against myself
It's me and no one else
Nobody understands
I'm locked in my head again

Locked in my head again
Locked in my head again
A war against myself
It's me and no one else
Nobody understands
I'm locked in my head again
