Girl In A Coma

Fit For Rivals

You took it off and put it on for them
Never satisfied with no one no not anything
You take it all and throw it back at them
Everything is wrong unless you have your way again

Take your time, don't hurry up,
Cause nothing is ever enough
Every time you're around girl you've forgot
How you try to make believe in something your not
Your time is running out

You shook me off and went around again
Never satisfied with no one no not anything
You came around, to fade away with them
Everything is wrong unless you have your way again

Take your time, don't hurry up,
Cause nothing is ever enough, woah
Every time you're around girl you've forgo.
How you try to make believe in something your not
Your time is running out

Oh girl, you've got so damn much to prove
It's a shame you'll never know how much you got to lose
Your time is running out

Take your time, don't hurry up,
Cause nothing is ever enough, woah
Every time you're around girl you've forgot
How you try to make believe in something your not
Your time is running out

Oh girl, you've got so damn much to prove.
It's a shame you'll never know how much you got to lose
Your time is running out
