

Breakdown

Floater

When you walk the streets you can feel it in the way it leaves you in a cold sweat Coming up for air not escaping. All I can feel is the bottom we 're scraping

And you say, "It's all right. And "It's okay."
Just learn to live life another day
Kingdoms rise and kingdoms fall."
I want to be there when we watch it all breakdown
You know it
Don't you feel like watching it all burn down to the ground
Yeah, when I breakdown
I'm gonna show it
And all my flames will rise through the skies with a terrible s ound
Yeah when I breakdown

They send me out to locate all the dead so I can tally 'em
And I take my paycheck and buy whiskey to chase the valium
May not deserve to serve, but you will whether you like it or n ot
No, no, nobody's looking for a savior, they're just looking for everything you've got

Everything!

And I said, "It's all right. And "It's okay."
Just learn to live life another day
Kingdoms rise and kingdoms fall."
I want to be there when we watch it all breakdown
And you know it
Don't you feel like watching it all burn down to the ground
Yeah, when I breakdown
I'm gonna show it
And all my flames will rise through the skies with a terrible s ound
Yeah when I breakdown
And if I could, I'd shove the whole world, right onto a knife
I wouldn't think twice
But you're the one I'm thrown
To save my life

You said, "It's all right. And "It's okay."
Learn to live life another day
And if you stop to pick me up
You know that I'll be going your way
