

Come See Everything

Floater

Lately he's been drinking alone
Dreaming naked by the telephone
Bolting doors and getting stoned
Locked and loaded and he's losing hope
Ohh
And as the sum of all fears
Becomes the drum in our ears
And someone unlikely says
Come and see everything
Come out and see the whole world
We'll never make it alone
Never make it
If it's too much to contemplate
Just start shaking the hands of fate
No one leaves the way they came
What you take is what you gave
And as the sum of all fears
Becomes the drum in our ears

And someone unlikely says
Come and see everything
Come out and see the whole world
Come and see it
When you turn your back
Let your soul go black
Black as coal soot
Black as a crow's foot
Lately he's been drinking alone
Dreaming naked by the telephone
Bolting doors and getting stoned
Locked and loaded and losing hope
Ohh
And as the sum of all fears
Becomes the drum in our ears
And someone unlikely says
Come and see everything
Come out and see the whole world
We'll never make it alone
Ohhh
Oh no
