

Evangeline

Floater

The dazzling light that you're always emitting
Leaves me blind and breathless on my back
The sentence for the crime that I'm committing
Is to need only the one thing that I lack

And I love you still, and I always will
Evangeline
Nothing is as it seems when I'm living in your dreams
Evangeline

A Western sun pulls us along as we glide
Town to town, we hope no more to roam
There is an ache I know will only subside

When I lay down next to you back home

And I love you still, and I always will
Evangeline
Nothing is as it seems when I'm living in your dreams
Evangeline

My fever broke and I awoke wishing for you by my side
You said if wishes were horses then beggars like me would ride

And I love you still, and I always will
Evangeline