Something grown together
An agreement
Whether or no the weather is hot or freezing
Until the day of bereavement

Something known forever

A convergence

Of lifelines and lifetimes full of wonderings and longings and searchings

Commitment and devotion

An adventure

A kiss to span the oceans when in sickness when healthy tired or injured

Energy and passion

An investment

Entering onto a path intertwined laughing crying and learning l ifelong lessons

Something grown together

Something grown together

Something grown together

Like branches of a banyan tree

Deeply rooted in family

Giving life to a canopy

Much more than a crush more than a brush with where happenstanc e is standing

Compatible hearts like raggedy anne and andy

Bump bump

Bump bump

But the beat changes up when he sees her

Takkity takkity taka taka taka

Takity takity-

Can't believe the rhythm is so in sync

And that isn't there only strength

They were humming a tune

The sun and the moon

They didn't know what to think

But they were pleased to see these two young souls become mates To provide light for a song that was sung right in one take Because there's no need to rehearse when you and your partner g et in the zone

And you can't memorize words you've always known
