

We were born
Under blackened skies
Black and blue and
The wrath of the night

Few kids forced
And the tired eyes
Spoon-fed war machine
As you walk in this and on
And you call into your own

Stars are falling down on you
Stars are falling down on you
And it takes you away

Life's tale is on the road
In the season of the torch
All you people come and look upon
The child behind the thorns
But always longs for more

Stars are falling down on you
Stars are falling down on you
And it takes you away

You're facing how long into the wind?
And soon you find you way on your knees to begin
There's beauty found in the fall
(When) we learn to crawl
Learn to crawl

Born into the gilded cage
Tied in ribbons and awards
Came upon its deepest thoughts
Though it's sour we will worn
Never knowing trapped and torn

You're facing how long into the wind?
And soon you find you way on your knees to begin
There's beauty found in the fall
(When) we learn to crawl
Learn to crawl
Learn to crawl

You is your broken heart
There's a rose for your requiem
Come down
And crawl again
And reborn!
Come down
And crawl again
And reborn!

Stars are falling down on you
And it takes you away
The higher way is down
There's a deeper life that's yet to be found

More than what we have known

You're facing how long into the winds?
And soon you find your way on your knees to begin
There's beauty found in the fall
(When) we learn to crawl
Learn to crawl
