

I'm Not Afraid Of Tomorrow

Forever in Terror

Brand my eyes, with this lifeless expression.
Forget it now, it's lost all attention.
Follow the path, the way of destruction.
This silence has been broken.

I'm not afraid of tomorrow, for tomorrow will bring the stars.
I live my life in this sorrow, for the morning will bring the light.
The morning will bring the light, and now it's too late for regrets.

Lets fight this tide and fade away.
I see it in your eyes, the silence has been broken once again.
There
Will be no miscommunication.
I know this morning brings the light.
Flat line these waves will pull away.
Fight the aggression, flat line
These waves will pull away.

We fight the aggression, flat line the waves will pull away.
In the wake of this moment, the waves will pull away.
In the wake of this moment.
