Overboard

Forever in Terror

The moonlight hangs above our bow.

Calm night air spreads out its cold breath.

Denial is vain; you never wanted a shallow grave.

Overtaken by scoundrels

You swallow your pride

To drown in your shallow grave.

A captain death, one contempt and brave.

Over the edge, forget the past

You' re seen your future, a moonlit path

Now we dance to release this bitter plague.

Now you...

Dance beneath the waves

To drown in shallow graves.
