

Keeping Score

Francesca Battistelli

Dear heartbreak
Why do you feel so bad
Why do you hurt like that
What's going on

Your heart's filled with regrets
You try but you can't forget
Can grace cover things like this Well, it already did

I know you're thinking that you've finally gone too far
And you're certain He'll be closing the door
But you've gotta believe the things you've done aren't beyond H is love
He's not keeping score

If He can make the morning
He can make redemption too
There's nothing you could do
To take that away

If His love is big enough to move any mountain
His love is big enough for you, just accept it