

You Belong

Francesca Battistelli

Just a little unseen
Always on the outside looking in
Just a little unsure
Uncomfortable in my own skin

Hiding in the shadows looking on Holding out for someone I'll become
Waiting on the words I've burned to hear
For so long

You belong
The whole world is waiting
No one else can sing your song
You belong
The lie that's been chasing you
Love's gonna prove it wrong
Open your eyes
Breathe in the light
You don't have to hide
You belong

Even on the inside
Everybody's longing to fit in
Just to know we matter
Bringing something no one else can bring

You can leave the shadows for the light
You don't have to wait on the sidelines
Go ahead and dream your wildest dreams
Never stop

You belong
The whole world is waiting
No one else can sing your song
You belong
The lie that's been chasing you
Love's gonna prove it wrong
Open your eyes
Breathe in the light
You don't have to hide
You belong

Every single melody
Making up a symphony
Fearfully and wonderfully
Making up a masterpiece
Take off the mask, shake off your past
Stand up and join the dance
Shout every every note, take every chance
Stand up and join the dance

You belong
You belong
The lie that's been chasing you

Open your eyes
Breathe in the light
You belong
You belong
You belong
