

The Line

Frankmusik

I let my city crumble
I set my prisoners free.
The fields of baron empty as my people round and flee.

Now money holds no value and neither does my life we ain't 'bout one woman who is passing in the night Didn't see her coming empty her leave,
Didn't see the fool I was with the heart upon my sleeve.

Take it all what's mine,
if it's gone then there's nowhere left to hide.
Take it all it's feel seems you needed plenty more than me.
And you can steal the other hands and extort my master plans but you'll never have a night like mine
'cause today this is where I'll join the line.

There's a merely punctuation,
I'm sure I'll be okay Time is but a mind frustration but you knew that anyway
I only wanted love,
too much to ask,
you acted quite the same until you lost the mess Didn't see you coming Didn't see you leave Didn't see the fool I was with my heart upon my sleeve.

In the distance I see the smoke, It's just another man you brought,
I know what time's make me sad I've come to realize I'll be a lose when you never have
