

What Can I Give

Fred Hammond

I've questioned, but I still don't know the reason why
When trouble shook my ground, You stayed around
So faithful, Your love has been to me
And Lord, I'll always love You for the rest of my days

What can I give in exchange
For the love You've shown me everyday
My very life, just don't seem like enough
But I'd rather give to You and I'll throw in all my love

I'm so grateful that Your love is available
It hears me when I call and it lifts me when I'm low
Lord no other love, worthy to receive such praise
So I give You, all of my life and love You for the rest of my days

I'll waste no more time
'Cause there is no more doubt in my mind
For Your love means the world to me
That I'd go another day
Without giving You all of me for all Your love

What can I give in exchange
For the love You've shown me everyday
My life, just don't seem like enough
