Heart

Freddie Hart

Heart we just got to get together For my own peace of mind I've got to know You'll be only one who really knows the answers You know you love her but should we keep her or let her go

Eyes are you sure you saw her cheating Ears love words you've heard could be a lie We've got everything to gain if we can keep her But so much too much to lose to say goodbye

Can you even imagine life without her At her worst she's still the best we've ever known Heart don't lose your head and go to pieces Here she comes now heart ain't it good to have her home Here she comes now heart ain't it good to have her home
