From Dawn To Fall

Sometimes you know it seems so easy
Sometimes it's hard to find
This town's a beauty one of a kind
So rare and undefined

The fake, the truth
The thin red line
The nights, the days, the rising

I've seen it all before
I've had enough I'm ready to go
This was just the beginning
[Now I'm ready to come home]
I've seen it all before
I've had enough I'm ready to go
This was just the beginning

When it comes down
To pen and paper
It's up to you never say sorry
Never regret what you do

The friends, the truth
The thin red line
This is our rising

I've seen it all before
I've had enough I'm ready to go
This was just the beginning
[Now I'm ready to come home]
I've seen it all before
I've had enough I'm ready to go
This was just the beginning

When it comes down
To pen and paper
It's up to you never say sorry
Never regret what you do

Sometimes it seems so easy
Sometimes it's hard to find
This town's a beauty one of a kind
So rare and undefined

The fake, the truth
The thin red line
This is our rising

I've seen it all before
I've had enough I'm ready to go
This was just the beginning
[Now I'm ready to come home]
I've seen it all before
[seen it all before]
This was just the beginning
[The beginning, the beginning]

Now I'm ready to come home
