

New Love

From Indian Lakes

When you reach out to sunlight,
Do you see this for what it was?
Push the clouds back from both sides
You're holding on but you just don't see a thing

You're holding onto lost love
Waiting on it, I know you don't
It came around last night
When you were dreaming
I know you don't feel it now
But you're not alone

Do you wait for the white lie?
We begin to evaporate
To the clouds, such a sweet high
Come down with a different face, new eyes

New love
New love

You're holding onto lost love
Waiting on it, I know you don't
It came around last night
When you were sleep
I know you don't
But you run away from the good life
Listen to me, I know you don't We're holding back for Another try, listen, baby
I know you don't feel it now
