

You talk about it like I haven't got it in me
Your wasteful thinking gets you nowhere in your mind
On top of nothing just another passing fancy
You let me down but then you make me sssstay
You mutha fuckers make me want to stick it in you
You tell me one thing then you're walking on my back
The smiling faces without trust I see right through you
You reach for something don't you reach for me
So don't expect yourself to be there
Cause if alone is what it is, don't play fair
And now it's time to crawl inside your he said
Well don't you drag me down you'll be running from me
Always running...is this what you want
You can't accept the fact on how we sit above you
I raise the question of your full integrity
You're always crying like a little fucking sissy
If you could step outside, you'd fffuckin realize
So run for cover when the Zero comes to get you
Lashing out it seems to be the only way
No room to back up what you say ain't got it in you
Don't fuck around us when it comes to UNITY
So don't expect yourself to be there
Cause if alone is what it is, don't play fair
And now it's time to crawl inside your he said
Well don't you drag me down you'll be running from me
Always running...is this what you want
Drag me through you endless spite
Always gonna keep you running
Drag me through you endless spite
Always gonna keep you running
Drag me through your
Don't deny me
