

City in Silhouettes

Funeral Party

In between the hours
And in between your days
And you're counting down the minutes
To a sad familiar stage

You're always around, never away
It took only seconds, it took only days
You're moving much faster and I was amazed
I'm loving your secrets and I know your ways

And you waste away
With your life unchanged
Swearing to god you'll never change

This is your moment
This is your life
This is your moment
I'll keep your moment in time

And you're far off in the boundary
And like us you never strayed
You're too close to get away from me
But too far to ever stay

You're doing it now, you're making me late
You're getting me nervous and I can't wait
To pull you back in where you belong
I'm loving your secrets and I know they're wrong

And you waste my time
Every single time
You think I'm wrong, I think I'm right

This is your moment
This is your life
This is your moment
I'll keep your moment in time

This is your moment
This is your life
This is your moment
I'll keep your moment in time
In time, in time
In time, in time
