

Bold And Underlined

Future of Forestry

I think I'm falling slow, I think I'm falling fast
You think that time would know how long the feeling would last

I wonder how you give, I wonder how you pray
I wonder how you live and drive your demons away

See your love is bold and underlined
See your life is bold and underlined

Is something falling slow?
Is something falling fast?
I know we just wanna go
Where we don't feel like the past

Remember how you give, remember how you pray
Remember how you live and drive your demons away

You take the charms of night, you take the smell of rain
You take the beauty of light and give your moments away