

Destiny Calls

Gaia Epicus

I feel a fire in my veins, I feel it in my bones
I've been stuck in the same old tracks, It's time to move along
When I see the morning sunrise, I know that I will be fine
A better life is out there waiting, and it will be mine
Letting go of yesterday can be tough
But never say that you have had enough

I ride alone
I am on my way
Just like a bullet I'm faster than all
You gotta be ready when destiny calls
I see a new future, I see my home
All the things I left behind me, they are all gone
As I ride into the sunset, I'm feeling fine
No more days filled with sorrow, cause this time is mine
I, I ride alone
I'm on my way
I cannot stay
I hear a voice who is calling me
It goes through these walls
When destiny calls
