Die For Your King

Gaia Epicus

Riding down the valley of the Kings I hear the song of a thousand years Once you've seen the things that I have seen Your soul will die if your mind's not clean

In the valley of the kings Steel meets steel once again In the shadow you will find All the victims left behind

For a thousand years they've been coming here To spill their blood for the King You can hear the sounds of the fighting men Who gave their lives again and again

Die for your King
And the land of the free
And the right to believe
The ancient code
Will still carry on
As long as you're heart is real

Die for your king And the land of the free Hear the people sing Die for your King
