

This Life Could Be My Last

Galahad

This life could be my last This life could be my last
This life could be my last But at least we had a
Blast

I mustn't wait a second, there's so much left to do So much
Weight upon my shoulders the pressure just isn't true
But hang on for a moment who am I trying to kid? This
Is a crazy situation as nobody else really cares

So from now on everything I do I do it for me and mine
A selfish streak I know but it's about time. There? so Much I want to experience some legal some not It makes Life more exciting, I've just got to give it a shot

Because each day I'm feeling like I'm dying just a little Bit more Because each day I'm feeling like my energy is
Seeping away

This life could be my last, this life could be my last
This life could be my last, at least we had a blast

Want to travel to the ends of the earth And see what it
All about Want to soak up our destructive history And

Try and work it all out

Because each day I'm feeling like I'm dying just a little Bit more Because each day I'm feeling like my energy is
Seeping away

This life could be my last, this life could be my last
This life could be my last, at least we had a blast
This life could be my last, this life could be my last
This life could be my last, at least we had a blast

I know that there's no sense in much that we do But there
Has to be a cause and effect For everything to come
True

Because each day I'm feeling like I'm dying just a little Bit more Because each day I'm feeling like my energy is
Seeping away

This life could be my last, this life could be my last
This life could be my last, At times it went so fast
This life could be my last, this life could be my last
This life could be my last, at least we had a blast
