Me About You

Gandalf

Perhaps another time or maybe 'nother place Could've eased my mind, would've never seen your face Or heard about you

But now you call my name & your reality Though it's hard to explain, I know I'll never be Without you

I know nothing about you But I know I don't doubt your love & I know that it's real By God above I know how I feel about you

Got a handful of gold & a pocketful of dreams But a heart full of love & I know what it means To be without you

Come sit by my side & share with me All the feelings inside & the things you see About you

I know Miss Lonely will be here today Waiting for me; now the time is right, so hear me say That from now on I'll stay about you

I know Miss Lonely will be here today Waiting for me; now the time is right, so hear me say that all my life I'll always stay about you About you, about you, about
