

You Stand

Gateway Worship

You hold the oceans in your own two hands
To you this earth is just a grain of sand
God you are, you will be and you have always been

You weigh the mountains and you weigh each hill
They're nothing more than dust upon your scales
God you are, you will be and you have always been

You stand, you stand
You stand forever
You stand, you stand
You stand forever
In my highs in my lows
I know you never let go
You stand, you stand
You stand forever

So we will follow you and not grow faint
For those who trust in you will find new strength
God you are, you will be and you have Always been

You stand, you stand
You stand forever
You stand, you stand
You stand forever
In my highs in my lows
I know you never let go
You stand, you stand
You stand forever

You have no rival
You have no equal
Nothing and no one can compare to you
You're everlasting
You're never ending
Nothing and no one can compare to you

You have no rival
You have no equal
Nothing and no one can compare to you
You're everlasting
You're never ending
Nothing and no one can compare to you

You stand, you stand
You stand forever
You stand, you stand
You stand forever
In my highs in my lows
I know you never let go
You stand, you stand
You stand forever

You stand, you stand
You stand forever
You stand, you stand

You stand forever
In my highs in my lows
I know you never let go
You stand, you stand
You stand forever
