

Through The Veils Of Darkness

Gehenna

I leave this world behind
In absence of my body
Where trails of troubled souls
Shall lead the way

I swore to return to this place of suffering

And when I see the demon's eye stare at me
I know my time has come
And all I could do has been done
Brought to the end of my trail
I stop and behold all the different worlds
I am shapeless, dead and lost for words...
