To Be Forgiven

George Michael

I'm going down
won't you help me
save me from myself
I hear the sound of a memory maybe time will tell suddenly my life is like a river taking to places I don't want to go but like all good man who swim too well it takes all that I have just to cry for help then that voice in my head tells me no

I'm going down
won't you help me
save me from myself
I look around for a fantasy maybe, who can tell?

let me live my life beside the river take me to places where a child can grow and then maybe, maybe the boy inside will forsake me maybe the child in me will just let me go

I'm going down
the cod, cold water is rushing in I'm going down
and I would beg to be forgiven if I knew my sin
save me

I'm going down...
