

Over-Analysis

Ghosts

Well I don't mean anything coz it makes no difference You shake your head again as I try to make amends Well I know I've got a gift for over-analysis I'll try to make it fit but I'll make a mess of it

You say there's nothing to it, that the news is sometimes wrong
But the stars predict that I'll be tricked oh

Break my bones and string me along
A waste of time or a grand design?
Oh never mind, coz I've got no more pride to swallow now

I don't mean to make a fuss
But you're meant to be helping us I'll add the numbers up but I always get too much [Lyrics from: http://www.lyricsmode.com/lyrics/g/ghosts/over_analysis.html]
You say there's nothing to it,
that the news is sometimes wrong
But the stars predict that I'll be tricked oh

Break my bones and string me along
A waste of time or a grand design?
Oh never mind, coz I've got no more pride to swallow
And I don't know why I should bother if you see black and white not colour
Don't you see that I don't care if you don't want me there?

Will I ever find something better to fill my time?
Well I've never tried but I'd be so very far behind I'm gonna draw a line and try to cross it by January I'm running out of time but I've come too many miles and miles with all these things that I do
It's all I can do
