Moment to Moment

Gino Vannelli

Too many nights of isolation
Too many echoes in my head
Too many fires left burning
In this bed
Too many thoughts of desperation
So much pain deep down below
So much a slave to my senses
I can't let go

From moment to moment
I live and I die
This can't go on anymore
Another day, another lie
From moment to moment
I stand and I fall
This can't go on anymore
Unless we both give it all

I ask you how can a man keep his distance
How can he reason with his heart
How can you hold me so near
Yet keep me so far

From moment to moment
I live and I die
This can't go on anymore
Another day, another lie
From moment to moment
I stand and I fall
This can't go on anymore
Unless we both give it all

Sometimes I'd like to break you down
To see if there's a trace of woman in you that could be found
But I just keep prayin' you'll come around
And live from moment to moment
I live from moment to moment
I live from moment to moment

So much a slave to my senses
I can't let go

From moment to moment
I live and I die
This can't go on anymore
Another day, another lie
From moment to moment
I stand and I fall
This can't go on anymore
Unless we both give it all

You know I want to give it all
I live from moment to moment
Everyday of my life
