

The Surest Things Can Change

Gino Vannelli

I love you now
And I never want to change my mind
But love is strange
And the surest things can change

We carry love
More than we can stand to lose
But who can say
The things we feel this day
Are the things we feel in time

Oh how can I be sure
The sun will rise in days to come
And now that I am yours
The world is still for you and I

We carry dreams
Like children in the spring of life
But love is pain
And the purest things can change

Who can say
The things we feel this day
Are the things we feel in time

Oh how can I be sure
The sun will rise in days to come
And now that I am yours
The world is still in cloudless sky
But sad as rain
The surest things can change...
