

Home Alone

Gladys Knight

Being alone can be so very painful
Sometimes you don't wanna go home
You work your fingers to the bone
To try and fill the long and lonely days
Only to go home and face the restless nights

To learn to live without the one you love
Sometimes you walk the floor
And watch the walls so they don't close in on you
I don't wanna be, never wanna be home alone

When you're home alone
You tend to think about all the good times you've spent
With the one you love
But though love is gone
Those old memories still linger on and on and on
You just can't let go

To learn to live without the one you love
Sometimes you walk the floor
And watch the walls so they don't close in on you
I don't wanna be, never wanna be home alone
No, no, no, no, no
I don't wanna be, never, never wanna be home alone

Hey baby
All by myself
No-one to hold my hand
Do you understand

To learn to live without the one you love
Sometimes you walk the floor
And watch the walls so they don't close in on you
When you learn to live without the one you love
Still those old memories linger on and on and on and on
Oh, I don't wanna be, never wanna be home alone
Baby can you hear me
I don't wanna be, never wanna be home alone
No, no, no, baby, no, no, oh
I don't wanna be, never wanna be home alone
Ooh, oh, no, no, I don't wanna be, never wanna be home alone
