

A Beautiful Day to Die

Glamour of the Kill

Somebody wake me and tell me that I am dreaming
No matter how I try I just can't fight this feeling
Rain is pouring down, around my feet and I'm Falling to the ground, and now it feels like

I've been searching for answers (in my mind)
I've got a feeling it's too late, too late

Wake up it's a beautiful day to die my dear, die my dear
You didn't think that it would end this way
Now it's time for you to say goodbye

I've been walking alone tonight
All I need is you by my side
You'll be my dirty little secret
Don't you cry, close your eyes girl
Let life pass you by girl
It's time for me to take, take, take you away

I've been searching for answers (in my mind)
But no matter how hard I try, they're never there to find
I've been searching for answers (in my mind)
I've got a feeling it's too late, too late

Wake up it's a beautiful day to die my dear, die my dear
You didn't think that it would end this way
Now it's time for you to say goodbye

Lost in here I can't escape
Dragged down deeper by all my hate
Fate brought me closer to you day by day
Did you think that I would ever, let you slip away?

I've been searching for answers (answers)

Wake up it's a beautiful day to die my dear, die my dear
You didn't think that it would end this way
Now it's time for you to say goodbye

Wake up, wake up
Baby you're the reason that I'm losing my mind
Wake up, wake up
Baby you're the reason that I'm losing my mind
Losing my mind again
