

Where Shadows Never Fall

Glen Campbell

Once I stood alone in darkness
In the valley of the shadow
In a world so cold and heartless
Filled with anger greed and sorrow
I know my life was in a stormy rage
Then I fell down on my knees and prayed

And I could feel his light surround me
And the darkness in the shadows
Then he wrapped his love around me
And he healed a heart torn and tattered

He cast away the shadows of the night
And I was saved once and for all
Now I'm standing in his light
Where shadows never fall

The way is clear now and his truth shines bright
Cause I've been saved once and for all
Now I'm standing in his light
Where shadows never fall
Where shadows never fall
