

Breaking Destiny

Gloryful

Shout it out loud, towards the open sea
Breaking the waves, the captive of the crow
Suffer a thousand deaths
No! She can't stand the curse
Breaking the promises
The union is getting worse

Follow the heart, all the way back
Fate lies in her own hands
And please forgive, this loss was never meant to be
And now, she'll change destiny, tonight!

Kingdom of the sea - to eternity
Forevermore our agony
Anger and pain
Breaking destiny
Revenge - a lifelong tragedy

Through snow and ice, through the eternal white
Burning the skin, leaving the cliffs behind
No looking back
His scream for vengeance hits the night
On wings of thunder
He will fall right through the sky

Father forgive, save me from this tomb
Reach out your hand, keep falling to the ground
Serving the thunder, won't be my destiny
Victim of your betrayal is what is meant for me
