

On Fire

Gloryful

On fire, down to the ground
A king will return to recapture the crown
On fire, hearing the call
Breaking the nightmare for once and for all

And we will find
The guts and balls to carry on
Glory will cross our way
'til judgement day

On fire, swords to the sky
Fighting the evil eye to eye
On fire, for victory
Rise from the grave to conquer the sea

In every loss
A weak breeze can become a storm
Fighting till judgement day
Glory will cross our way

The twilight of the gods will rise

On fire, all demons flee
This world is ours
The land of the free
On fire, start to rebel
Killing the god, send her to hell

The story ends
Our destination within one's reach
Hear close to what I say
Glory will cross our way

The twilight of the gods will rise
We will tear their curse apart
The twilight of the gods will rise
Twilight will rise, standstill of time
