

The Oath

Gloryful

Can you feel it, the war is calling back
The hordes of chaos are ready to attack
The curse of evil, our world is in decline
The surprising moment is mine, mine, mine

The sky turns dark, the goddess will arise
To bring us freedom, you are close to your demise
Her heart beats cold, this will end in bloody gore
I kill them all, saying more, more, more

While my heart still burns
While my soul is still free
I'm sworn to the goddess of the sea
While my heart still burns
While my soul is still free
Guide me the way, stay by me

Close to the edge, the path of innocence disgraced
Lost in the madness, our discretion is erased
I feel the steel, my companion in these days
Slaying evil til McGuerkin's bays

Drowned in hate, I spit on the crown
Hail to the goddess, the throne is going down
Call on my brothers, a bond you cannot bend
Kill the king, your reign gonna end
