How can I go on, dawn is breaking
But it's yours for taking
I'm losing the battle of the heart
Every time it turns to spring
I think of you again and how I long to fly, fly free

I'm standing at the edge of something beautiful But it hurts to try I'm scared it won't arrive Love everlasting but the dawn is breaking But it's yours for taking

I'm losing the battle of the heart, oh umm hum oh
I'm losing the battle of the heart, umm oh
I don't want to surrender
But that's when I can commend this thing

There always comes this sweet hello And I feel way too far On the edge of something beautiful I never realized

Just how to separate the two

Fantasy from truth and running into you

Then all of the reasons keep flashing before me

But I can't do and I thought I was through

The feeling was done, the battle was over, it's not over

I'm losing the battle of the heart, oh
Is it crazy I thought I could win, oh
I'm losing the battle of the heart, oh oh