Four hundred thousand years ago They came from outer space And gave us life here And we are taking everything for granted I don't think we should do this now And when I see the smoke around I feel like I'm not From humankind down there I feel like glaciers are my eyes And mountains are my head My heart is ocean And I feel all alone Because everybody's wrong I feel the living What is this thing that we call hate And that's inside of me Get. out. of here!

A world is down

And none can rebuild it

Disabled lands are evolving

My eyes are shut, a vision is dying

My head explodes

And I fall in disgrace

I hold my inner child within
And tell him not to cry
"don't fear the living"
One day you will stand as a king
And no fear can erase
This light below us
Each one of us is now engaged
This secret we all have
This truth is growing
And as a warrior I have to fight
I can already feel
The love I'll discover

I had this dream, our planet surviving
The guiding stars always growing
And all the worlds
The fates all the countries
They're all rebuilding at the same time
I never fell and always believed in
We could evolve and get older
Open your eyes and let all this flow
Now see a new hope is growing inside

We will see our children growing
