

Over and Over

Goo Goo Dolls

Picking up the pieces out they left you in again
Love is all you want but you're never gonna feel the same
It's hard to be yourself when everyone around is changing
Open up your eyes and you'll never lose yourself again

And we go over and over and over again
Are ya lost in the past thinking what might have been
You're here and you're now started over and then
Take it over and over and over again

Turn it up
Turn it up

Old enough to know and young enough to live again
Stare into the mirror but no one that you know is there (that you know is there)
Shaking like its cold and no one's there to take your hand
I will give you mine and shiver 'till you're warm again

So don't you look down

And we go over and over and over again
Are ya lost in the past thinking what might have been
You're here and you're now started over and then
Take it over and over and over again

Turn it up
Turn it up
Turn it up
Turn it up

Turn it on, turn it up, turn it over and we'll start again
Turn it up, turn it over, turn it up
Turn it on, turn it up, turn it over and we'll start again
Turn it up, turn it over, turn it up
(2x)

Turn it on, turn it up, turn it over and we'll start again
Turn it up, turn it over, turn it up
Turn it on, turn it up, turn it over and we'll start again

Turn it up
Turn it up
Turn it up (up up up)
And we'll start again

Turn it up
And we'll start again
(3x)
