Here Are The Problems

Good Old War

Wait, Half your heart stays with me if your sorry Stay Do your part, you are for me, you are the last piece You've already gone I'm trying To get you To stop you From running If you are sure who I am You don't hear me And if you leave now, I might die No, I'm not lying I've already lost I'm trying To get you To stop you From running I'm finding I'm still wanting you Your leaving never seems to go through I've already lost I'm trying To get you To stop you From running It's our dream It's our life It's only a weakness Here are the problems I've gone looking for Here are the answers I can't get to you Here are the problems I've gone looking for All of the answers are what's left this year.
