Ode to Big Blue

Gordon Lightfoot

The oceans of the world were the home of Big Blue He was the greatest monster that the world ever knew And the place that he loved best was the waters to the west Around the blue Pacific he did roam

Big Blue moved alone for a mighty blue was he And the battles of the whales was an awesome sight to see And he took them one by one and he drove them all away In the mating of the day he was the king

Big Blue had fifty wives and he sired forty sons Though most of them feel victim to the cruel harpoon guns Ah, but he was too much wise to get caught by the gunner's eyes And so he lived at sea a hundred years

His mouth was as large as a tunnel, so they say His hide was thick as leather and his eyes quick and small And his back was all scarred by the times he got away And he knew the smell of whalers, did Big Blue

Big Blue passed away to his natural decay Beside the Arctic Circle as he traveled up that way And there never was a man who was born with a gunner's hand Who ever took a pan to Big Blue

Now the gray whale has run and the sperm is almost done The fin backs and the Greenland rights have all passed and gone They've been taken by the men for the money they could spend And the killing never ends, it just goes on

The oceans of the earth were the home of Big Blue He was the greatest monster that the world ever knew And the place that he loved best was the waters to the west Around the blue Pacific he did roam
