

Love Is Love

Grace Potter

I don't care about pride
I don't care I wanna call you
I don't care I've gone off the rails
I'm crazy fallin' for you

Well, I promised him I would never stray
But I'm thinkin' about you every day
Now I'm standin' here, outside your door
I just can't fight this anymore

Love is love, it takes a hold
It'll change your life, make ya lose control
You can't explain the things it does
But hearts are hearts, and love is love

I never said I was a saint
I never said I'd be his savior
I'll never say I didn't try to fight
Against my human nature

Let the past and future fall away
I will worship these wounds every day
Yeah the cuts that bleed from my mistakes
Couldn't keep my heart from givin' way

Love is love, it takes a hold
It'll change your life, make ya lose control
You can't explain the things it does
But hearts are hearts, and love is love

Love is love
Love is love

Something just ain't right
When I'm up all night
Something about you
Lets me know I'm human
Flesh and blood

Love is love, it takes a hold
(It takes, it takes a hold)
It'll change your life, make ya lose control
(Make ya lose, make ya lose control)
So let it shine like stars above
(Let it shine like stars above)
'Cause hearts are hearts, and love is love
Hearts are hearts, and love is love
