He said, "Hold a dollar bill up to the mirror And I'll show you something funny It's only a fast buck, but It's so hard to make that kind of money"

Now it's hard to get serious When the joker is laughing And by now the joker is wild

It's hard to keep laughing
When a rich man's reflection
Looks like a gun that's gonna smile

What's going on? I ask you What's going on? Can you see? What's going on? I ask you and Who's coming on? Is it you or me?

Coming on while it's still soft and warm
Burn it dry before the fiery storm
Sing it now while you still have a song
Grab on now while you're still feeling strong

How long, how long would you like it? How long, how long will it be? How long, how long can we take it? How long before we take it back? You and me, think fast

I was thinking that I should be singing along Think fast I think he's coming through Think fast, he thinks he's running you

I was thinking that I should be singing along Think fast, he thinks he's coming in Think fast, I think he's wearing thin

I was thinking that I should be singing along Think fast, he's taking all your time Think fast, you know he's out of line

But who cares You know you can You will, you know you can

Sing it now while you still Sing it now while you still Sing it now while you still have a song
