

Lost in Confusion

Graveyard

I've been walking up streams for how long I can't recall It seems like I never would run of bad luck

I never thought that I would get these thoughts
And the sands are running low
I would get dazed to kill my haze
And now there's no return

It starts to feel like I'm lost
in this confusion
I tried so hard but I know now
that I can't get out
that I can't get out

All my thoughts were trapped in downward spirals Shutting off my feelings
And now they're gone forever

Every time I try to focus I'll wind up somewhere else
My head won't stop spinning And my mind is covered in haze

It starts to feel like I'm lost
in this confusion
that I can't get out
that I can't get out

It starts to feel like I'm lost
in this confusion
that I can't get out
that I can't get out
