Belief (To Rust)

Gravity Kills

Down by your wall I feel awake I am alone accepting my fate I have the answers twisting around me I found the answers of what I should be Down by your all I want you to stay I think of the place that ran you away I catch the rain that turns me to rust I stand in the flame that turns me to dust I can't believe That you might believe I'll heal you I can't believe That you might believe I want to at all That I want to at all
