

Holding Nothing Back

Great Lake Swimmers

A bird in flight, a burden lifted
A flood of light, holding nothing back
When we are in time, we make the daylight
To turn and fold
Holding you close is all that I can do

So I give all my love
So I give all my love to you
I saw you in my dreams
Now I see you for real

The sun is rising slow, throwing wild light
Upon itself, though it took some time
It doesn't end with you, the waves radiating through
The ones we draw
Holding nothing back

So I give all my love
So I give all my love to you
I saw you in my dreams
Now I see you for real

So I give all my love
So I give all my love to you
I saw you in my dreams
Now I see you for real

So I give all my love
So I give all my love to you
