

Caving In

Greenwheel

When life is caving in
Say goodbye to everything that you want
When I saw your face
You were holding on to tears of yesterday
You'd be the first, you'd be the first to say
You were hiding out so afraid
When life is caving in
Say goodbye to everything that you want
Cause your heart, your soul, and your grace
Is all you ever need to find your way
If you're alone where would you go
If you walked out again
And you know all that you loved you'll want back again, again.
Turn off your head
Turn off your head and feel
Your heart beating so brave
When life is caving in
Say goodbye to everything that you want
Cause your heart, your soul, and your grace
Are all you'll ever need to find your way
Turn off your head
Turn off your head and feel
Your heart beating so brave
Your heart, your soul, and your grace
Are all you'll ever need to find your way
