

Paralysed

Greg Lake

It was just another suitcase,
another one night stand.
Another sea of faces
staring from the dark. (dark)
Then I saw you looking up at me with unmistakeable eyes.
I could see you were determined to make a mark.
You were coming for me
just like a mako shark.

And I was paralysed.
Paralysed by the fire in your eyes.
I was paralysed,
just couldn't move.

Straight as an arrow
I see you flyin' through the night.
A message with a number anytime I called.
I was looking at your face
as the microphone glittered.
The crowd began to roar.

When the spotlight hit me,
I was all alone.
They wanted flesh and blood,
but I had fingers of stone.

And I was paralysed.
Paralysed by the fire in your eyes.
I was paralysed,
paralysed.

Out of the shadows
I heard a guitar scream.
The place began to thunder, street wall.

You were dreamin' of a hero,
a rock'n roll stallion
to make it through the night.
Like a rush of blue heaven
on a mission to score.
Just Snow White, dynamite, screaming for more.

And I was paralysed.
Paralysed by the fire in your eyes.
I was paralysed.

Paralysed,
paralysed by the fire in your eyes.
I was paralysed.

Paralysed,
I was paralysed by the fire in your eyes.

I was paralysed.